Experience

– the Syncro Difference

Syncro is the world's most advanced hearing aid – the first and only with Artificial Intelligence. You could say it is a thinking hearing aid, inspired by the human brain's amazing ability to discern a voice from a noise. But it's more than that.

Syncro makes thousands of calculations every second to choose the best and most important for you to hear among the sounds around you. This is a unique technique, and quite a revolution in technology.

With Syncro, you will experience the benefits of cutting edge technology, improving your hearing wherever you are.

Syncro

– puts speech in the spotlight

Syncro incorporates the most advanced digital features ever applied to a hearing system. With the new directional microphone system, you can enjoy better speech recognition in far more situations than ever before.

As a first, Syncro can actively suppress multiple distracting noise sources at the same time – even when they move around or change direction.

This special “search and destroy” feature enhances speech in the presence of background noise.

Syncro enhances speech in difficult listening situations with a lot of background noise.

Syncro automatically adapts to changing listening conditions, making sure that you will always hear voices clearly.

Experience life with better hearing

Syncro actively suppresses multiple distracting noise sources at the same time – even when they move around or change direction.

Syncro is equipped with a dedicated music setting, so you will hear music like no hearing aid user has ever heard music before.

With Syncro there is no need to have the TV volume turned up high because you can listen to it at a level everybody enjoys.

The everyday situations we all experience present real challenges for anyone with a hearing difficulty. It is for these situations that Syncro has been designed.

You will enjoy the difference immediately.

Experience

– effortless and comfortable listening

Using multiple advanced detectors, Syncro is able to determine the nature of the specific listening situation.

Depending on whether noise or a combination of speech and noise is present, Syncro adjusts accordingly.

This happens smoothly and automatically to ensure that you will be able to communicate comfortably even in the most difficult listening situations.

Natural sound

With Syncro you can use the phone or get a hug without worrying about the age-old problem of whistling, known as feedback.

Since Syncro has OpenEar Acoustics, you will no longer feel that your ears are plugged up. Even your own voice sounds natural.

A Syncro

– for every need

Syncro is a family of instruments providing a complete range of styles and designs from which you may choose the instruments that fit your exact needs and wishes.

All Syncro instruments function automatically. Syncro is equipped with up to four independent listening programs that are easily accessed with a push-button. For instance you could have a special setting for church, or a particular restaurant or when at the cinema, this it's your choice. There is even an optional volume control on selected styles. Let your Hearing Care Professional help you find the Syncro that is right for you.
